

DeepTarget Inc. Privacy Policy

Your relationship is important to us and we are committed to providing you with the best products and services possible. This Privacy Policy covers DeepTarget's treatment of personally identifiable information collected from our clients (hereafter "client" or "you"). During the course of doing business with you, we collect non-public personal information on your members, customers, former customers, and potential new customers (hereafter referred to as "your customers").

We do not disclose any such nonpublic personal information received except as permitted, authorized, or required by law. DeepTarget sends personally identifiable information to other companies or people: 1) when we have written consent to share the information; 2) when we need to share your information with third parties in order to provide the product or service you have requested; 3) in connection with products and services offered by DeepTarget business partners and/or companies who work on behalf of DeepTarget to provide a product or service to you and who also maintain strict privacy policies; 4) it is appropriate to comply with law; 5) it is necessary to protect the rights, property, or safety of DeepTarget, our clients, or others, which may include the exchange of information with organizations for fraud protection and/or risk reduction. In the event that DeepTarget is acquired, any such information may be treated as one of the transferred assets.

We agree to maintain strong confidentiality protections and limit the use of information we provide. We do not sell any information obtained to other third parties.

We restrict access to nonpublic personal information internally to those employees who have a specific business purpose in utilizing this data. Our employees are trained in the importance of maintaining confidentiality and client privacy. We maintain physical, electronic, and procedural safeguards that comply with federal regulations and leading industry practices to safeguard all nonpublic personal information. We use firewalls and other security technology, as well as implement the highest security practices to prevent our computers from being accessed by unauthorized persons.

Information security is critical to our business. The information gathered on secure computers is stored in a secure data center. We work to protect the security of your information during transmission by encrypting information. We do not include account numbers, social security numbers, personal identification numbers (PINs), passwords, or other confidential information in any e-mail correspondence with our clients that is not encrypted.

DeepTarget does not offer services or sell products to children, nor do we request or knowingly collect personally identifiable contact information from anyone under the age of 18.

DeepTarget reserves the right to modify or amend this Privacy Policy at any time and for any reason. If there are material changes to this statement or in how DeepTarget intends to use or treat personally identifiable information, DeepTarget will post notices on our website at www.DeepTarget.com. If you have questions regarding this Policy, please contact us at Email: info@DeepTarget.com.